Business Email Services

Email is a vital part of any business, large or small, and the efficiency of whatever system you choose is of paramount importance. As a Microsoft Silver Small and Mid-market Cloud Solutions partner, Sound Networks recommend Office 365 for your email solution. With the demise of Microsoft SBS (Small Business Server) many businesses which used to run their own on premise exchange mail servers are now migrating email services (many already have) to office 365. This system provides the same levels of control and functionality and due to being cloud based, is far more robust and accessible from almost any device.

There are a number of Office 365 and Exchange Online packages to choose from, it's just a matter of choosing which features are important to you; for instance you may want enhanced email archiving facilities or some kind of DLP (Data Loss Prevention) feature built in to the system.

Should you feel that Exchange Online is not the right solution for you, you may feel you would prefer to run your own on Premise Exchange Server or your needs may be the other way and a more conventional POP or IMAP mail system could be more suitable for where your business is right now.

It's important to make the right choice and many factors can influence this such as budget and perceived future growth. Whatever your situation, we can help you to navigate the options available and find the right package for you.
